

قائمة الاسئلة

امتحان نهاية الفصل الدراسي الثاني - للعام الجامعي 1445 هـ - 2024/25م - كلية اللغات :: Analysis Discourse : تحليل الخطاب - (LNG) - ا.د/ عبدالسلام الغرافي

- 1) ... can be defined as the systematic analysis of talks produced in everyday situations of human interaction.
 - 1) - Text analysis
 - 2) Conversation analysis
 - 3) - Ethnomethodology
 - 4) - Ethnography of speaking
 - 5) -
- 2) The micro-level linguistic phenomena that could be studied by computer mediated discourse analysis (CMDA) include
 - 1) - sentence structure
 - 2) - lexical choice
 - 3) - language switching
 - 4) All the other three answers
- 3) According to Herrings (2004), any analysis of online language behavior grounded in empirical textual observation is considered
 - 1) - critical discourse analysis
 - 2) - multimodal discourse analysis
 - 3) computer mediated discourse analysis
 - 4) - multimodal communication analysis
- 4) ... can be defined as the communication produced when human beings interact with one another by transmitting messages via network computers.
 - 1) - MMC
 - 2) CMC
 - 3) - SMS
 - 4) - CMD
- 5) Synchronous CMC requires participants to be ..., while asynchronous CMC involves ongoing interactions where there may be long breaks between communicative turns.
 - 1) - usually online
 - 2) - on computer promptly
 - 3) online simultaneously
 - 4) - consciously online
- 6) ... is an approach to the analysis of discourse interested in the ways that ideologies and power relations are expressed through language.
 - 1) - Discourse analysis
 - 2) - computer-mediated discourse analysis
 - 3) Critical discourse analysis
 - 4) - Multimodal discourse analysis
- 7) One of the following is not of the concern of computer mediated discourse analysis.
 - 1) - Meaning
 - 2) - Social behavior
 - 3) - Interaction
 - 4) Monologue
- 8) CDA research is usually ... in approach due to its preoccupation with the study of social problems which are naturally complex.
 - 1) multidisciplinary
 - 2) - interdisciplinary
 - 3) - monodisciplinary

- 4) - All the other three answers
- 9) Computer-mediated discourse analysis could be applied to the ... domain(s) or level(s) of language.
- 1) - structure and meaning
 - 2) - interaction
 - 3) - social behavior
 - 4) All the other three answers
- 10) The ... of an idea or event is the general situation that relates to it, and which helps it to be understood.
- 1) - texture
 - 2) - discourse
 - 3) - text
 - 4) context
- 11) One major area of divergence between traditional linguists and discourse analysts is that the latter investigates
- 1) - language structure
 - 2) - language beyond the sentence
 - 3) - language in use
 - 4) language beyond the sentence in use
- 12) One of the following is not a feature of conversations that discourse analysts look at when studying conversations.
- 1) - turn taking and turn allocation
 - 2) - insertion sequences
 - 3) textual features
 - 4) - adjacency pairs
- 13) ... is a sequence of turns intervenes between the first and second parts of an adjacency pair.
- 1) An insertion sequence
 - 2) - A turn taking
 - 3) - A repair mechanism
 - 4) - An overlaped speech
- 14) Ethnomethodology, as a branch of ..., involves studying how people produce and share social orders, or rather how they make sense of their everyday lives.
- 1) - linguistics
 - 2) sociology
 - 3) - anthropology
 - 4) - methodology
- 15) One of the following features is not considered a component of contex in discourse analysis.
- 1) - Physical situation
 - 2) - Interlocutors
 - 3) - Cultural aspects
 - 4) Sructural aspects
- 16) Textuality is achieved in a text if it functions as a ... as a result of the mutual relationship between linguistic items.
- 1) - grammatical unit
 - 2) unified whole
 - 3) - structural piece
 - 4) - semantic component
- 17) In reality, it is discovered that communication is done through the use of more than one ... resource.
- 1) - linguistic
 - 2) semiotic
 - 3) - oral

- 4) - orthographic
- 18) ... as an aspect of unity, refers to the connections that can be made by the listener or by the reader on the basis of their knowledge outside the discourse.
- 1) - Context
 - 2) - Texture
 - 3) - Cohesion
 - 4) + Coherence
- 19) Discourse analysis generally involves studying and analyzing any
- 1) - textual communications
 - 2) - conversations
 - 3) - interactional talks
 - 4) + All the other three answers
- 20) Computer mediated language has structural features which are usually influenced by different factors including
- 1) - the need for speed
 - 2) - technical limits on message length
 - 3) - limitation of time
 - 4) + All the other three answers
- 21) A good example of asynchronous textual form of computer mediated discourse is
- 1) + E-mail communication
 - 2) - WhatsApp chats
 - 3) - Facebook chats
 - 4) - short message service (SMS)
- 22) ... is an approach to discourse analysis which focuses on how meaning is made through the use of multiple modes of communication as opposed to just one mode.
- 1) - CMDA
 - 2) - CDA
 - 3) + MMDA
 - 4) - DA
- 23) One of the following is not a means of creating links between sentences in a text through the use of the grammatical resources of the language.
- 1) - Reference
 - 2) - Identification
 - 3) + Reiteration
 - 4) - Substitution
- 24) The term ... was originally formulated by Dell Hymes in 1962 to describe what happens whenever we engage in communication through speech.
- 1) + Ethnography of speaking
 - 2) - Conversation analysis
 - 3) - Linguistic anthropology
 - 4) - Ethnomethodology
- 25) Investigations in conversation analysis involve making an audio and/or video recording of naturally occurring talks which are carefully ... so as to capture details.
- 1) + transcribed
 - 2) - recorded
 - 3) - translated
 - 4) - discussed